Icy Winter Haiku by Crystal Senter Brown is a beautiful collection of haiku poems that capture the essence of the winter season. The poems are written with a delicate touch and a keen eye for detail, and they evoke a sense of wonder and appreciation for the beauty of nature.

Brown's haiku are minimalist in form, but they are rich in imagery and emotion. She uses simple language to create vivid pictures of the winter landscape, and her poems often capture the subtle changes in light and atmosphere that occur during this time of year.

The poems in Icy Winter Haiku are divided into four sections, each of which focuses on a different aspect of the winter season. The first section, "Snowfall," captures the beauty of fresh snow, with its pristine white blanket and sparkling crystals. The second section, "Ice," explores the beauty and mystery of ice, with its frozen rivers and shimmering glaciers.

The third section, "Winter Solstice," marks the shortest day of the year and celebrates the return of light. The fourth and final section, "Thaw," captures the sense of renewal and hope that comes with the arrival of spring.

Brown's haiku are a wonderful way to celebrate the beauty of the winter season. They are poems that will resonate with readers of all ages, and they are sure to become a cherished part of your winter reading.
