The Alarming Extent of Illegal Migration

According to the book, there are currently over 20 million Bangladeshis living illegally in India. This number is more than the population of several small countries, and it is growing every year. The vast majority of these illegal migrants are poor and uneducated, and they are often forced to live in slums or on the streets.

The influx of illegal Bangladeshis is putting a strain on India's resources. These migrants are competing with Indian citizens for jobs, housing, and healthcare. They are also driving down wages and increasing crime rates. In some areas, illegal Bangladeshis have even taken over entire villages.

The Devastating Impact on India's Economy and Security

The illegal migration of Bangladeshis is also having a devastating impact on India's economy and security. The migrants are a major source of cheap labor, which is driving down wages and making it difficult for Indian businesses to compete. They are also a major source of crime, and they have been linked to a number of terrorist attacks.

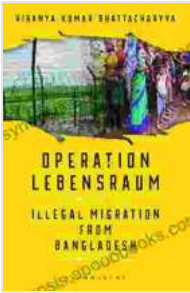

In addition, the influx of Bangladeshis is putting a strain on India's security forces. The migrants are often used as a cover for terrorists and other criminals to enter India. They are also a major source of intelligence for Pakistan, India's arch-rival.

The Complicity of Government Officials and Politicians

The illegal migration of Bangladeshis is a problem that has been ignored by the Indian government for decades. This is due in part to the complicity of government officials and politicians. Many of these officials are themselves Bangladeshis, and they have a vested interest in keeping the flow of migrants going.

In addition, many Indian politicians have courted the Bangladeshi vote. They have made promises to these migrants, and they have turned a blind eye to their illegal status. This has only served to encourage more Bangladeshis to come to India.

The illegal migration of Bangladeshis is a serious problem that is threatening India's economy, security, and way of life. The Indian government must take action to stop this influx of migrants, and it must bring those responsible for it to justice.
